The compiler's initials will be found at the end of each main section. In sections for which more than one contributor is responsible, each subsection has been initialled. The sections taken over from the C.H.E.L. and revised by another hand are signed with the initials both of the original compiler and the reviser, e.g. A.B.C., rev. X.Y.Z. Other revisions are indicated in foot-notes. The uninitialled sections have been contributed by the Editor.

III. THE INTELLECTUAL BACKGROUND

Influences Affecting the Whole Century: Philosophical and Speculative; Humanitarian and Humanistic; Greek and Roman Culture; Inspiration from Northern Epics, the Dark Ages, Mystery and Medievalism; The Cult of the Renaissance; Interest in Modern Europe.

The Period of Spiritual Enthusiasm, Hope and Moral Endeavour.

The Period of Divided Aims, Disillusionment, Controversy and Social Criticism: Anti-Catholic Reaction and Assertion of 'Higher Criticism'; Philosophical Radicals, Scientific Humanitarians, Constructive Agnostics (uninfluenced by Darwinism); Pre-Darwinian Science, German Christology and Historical Criticism, and their Effect on Moral and Religious Ideas; Criticism of Life and Society in this New and Disturbed Atmosphere of Scientific Enquiry, Biblical Criticism, and the Morals and Manners of Commercial Development and the Theories of the Manchester School.

Mammonism: The 'Economic Man's' Bible; Humanitarian Protests.

Darwinism, New Adjustments to the Responsibilities of Life, the End of an Age: Darwinism and its Immediate Effects; Realism and Naturalism, French Influences; Pessimism, the Reaction from Science and Positivism, Appeal to Humanism; New Spirit of Social and Political Reform, and of Reconciliation between Science and Religion; The Influence of Literary Criticism.

(1) INFLUENCES AFFECTING THE WHOLE CENTURY

(a) Philosophical and Speculative

Spinoza, B. de. Tractatus Theologico-Politicus. 'Hamburg' [Amsterdam], 1670. [Complete religious liberty essential to the state.]

— Tractatus Politicus. [In Opera Posthuma, Amsterdam, 1677. In sympathy with Hobbes, but reserves freedom of thought.]

— Ethica. [In Opera Posthuma, Amsterdam, 1677. Starts from Descartes to issue in a pantheism congenial to pre-Darwinian monism and post-Darwinian hylozoism.]

— Tractatus de Deo et Homine ejusque Felicitate, Liheamenta. Ed. E. Boehmer, Halle, 1852.

Wolff, C. F., Baron von. Vernünftige Gedanken von den Kräften des menschlichen Verstandes und ihrem richtige Gebrauche. Halle, 1725; tr. Eng. 1770.

Herder, J. G. Journal meiner Reise im Jahr 1769. [In Sämmtliche Werke, vol. iv, Berlin, 1878. Record of his youthful ideas and dreams of the progress of mankind.]

Herder, J. G. Von deutscher Art und Kunst. Hamburg, 1773. [In collaboration with Goethe and J. Mäser.]

— Auch eine Philosophie der Geschichte zur Bildung der Menschheit. 1774. [History reveals the scheme of man's advance towards perfection.]

— Älteste Urkunde des Menschengeschlechts. 2 vols. Riga, 1774-6.

— Vom Erkennen und Empfinden der menschlichen Seele. Riga, 1778.

— Ideen zur Philosophie der Geschichte der Menschheit. 4 pts, Riga, 1784-91.

Kant, I. Kritik der Reinen Vernunft. Riga, 1781. [By the co-operation of the metaphysical and the empirical faculties, the spirit can impose itself on experience (e.g. art) and gain an inkling of the ultimate reality outside ourselves. Of great importance to the romantic tradition.]

— Prolegomena zu einer jeden künftigen Metaphysik, die als Wissenschaft wird auftreten können. Riga, 1783. [Popular exposition of elements of Kritik der Reinen Vernunft.]

— Grundlegung zur Metaphysik der Sitten. Riga, 1785.

— Recension von Herders Ideen zur Philosophie der Geschichte der Menschheit. Jenaische Literatur-Zeitung, 1785.

— Kritik der Praktischen Vernunft. Riga, 1788.

— Kritik der Urtheilskraft. Berlin, 1790.

— Briefe zu Beförderung der Humanität. Riga, 1793.

— Die Religion innerhalb der Grenzen der blossen Vernunft. Königsberg, 1793.

Schiller, F. von. Über Anmuth und Würde. Neue Thalia, i, 1792. [Neue Thalia was a periodical edited by Schiller at Leipzig, 1792-3, for the interpretation of literary ideals, especially tragedy, according to Kant's aesthetics.]

— Briefe über die aesthetische Erziehung des Menschen. Die Horen, i, ii, 1795. [What, in itself, is beauty? Die Horen was a periodical edited by Schiller at Tübingen, 1795-7.]

— Von den nothwendigen Grenzen des Schönen besonders im Vortrag philosophischer Wahrheiten. Die Horen, iii, 1795.

— Über naive und sentimentalische Dichtung. Die Horen, v, 1796.

Fichte, J. G. Versuch einer Kritik aller Offenbarung. Königsberg, 1792.

— Grundlage des Naturrechts. Jena, 1796.

These and various other rpts incomplete till the essays appeared in Sämmtliche Werke, vols. v, vi, Hamburg, 1876, as Ueber Deutschland. Tr. Eng. New York, 1882; 1883 (another version). A brilliant and stimulating account of the gradual encroachment of philosophy into the religious kingdom, and of the issue in pantheism and melancholy. See The Autobiography of Mark Rutherford, 1881, chs. 2, 6, 9.]
- Emerson, R. W. Journals. 1912. [Pbd 30 years after his death; really the source and often the repository of his best lectures and essays. As a student of Plato, Spinoza, Swedenborg, and the German transcendentalists, who adapted and reinterpreted their metaphysics so as to discover the idea and intention of God in all experience (inaccurately characterised as unitarianism), Emerson's position is most significant. His conception of nature and animal life as leading to an explanation of man should be compared with Darwinism.]

[Proved that the development and evolution of species were due to no divine plan, nor universal idea, nor any other metaphysical or spiritual cause, but to the struggle for existence. Neither Mill, Spencer, G. Eliot, or M. Arnold realised the significance of his demonstration.]
- The Descent of Man, and Selection in relation to Sex. 2 vols. 1871.
- Formation of Vegetable Mould through the Action of Worms. 1881. [The most popular of all his works; the revelation of worms as one of man's best friends has produced a profound impression on our sentiment for Nature.]
- Huxley, T. H. Man's Place in Nature. 1863. [Huxley first understood that Darwinism meant a revolution in our conception of human destiny. Man is thrown on his own resources in this world, confronting nature like a half-equipped chess-player pitted against a remorseless antagonist (letter to C. Kingsley, 22 May 1863). Our progress depends on acquiring knowledge of the game, and in the courage and judgment which we can muster to make the right moves. Huxley's innumerable essays and addresses were republished in this and the following books.]

(g) Colour Printing

[All methods of colour printing involve separate impressions for each colour used, irrespective of the process by which the printing surface has been made. The only exceptions to this are hand colouring of the plate for each impression, Congreve's patent for interlocking blocks separately inked (about 1830), and Stenochromy (about 1875); the last two were never successfully applied to book illustration. This section therefore covers the application of colour to all printing processes including chromolithography. Information on coloured inks is given in some of the books already mentioned p. 73 above; historical works not concerned with technique appear on p. 89 below; and some further details will be found in the biographies of George Baxter and Francis Orpen Morris listed pp. 90–1 below.]

(6) GRAPHIC PROCESSES

[Graphic Processes are here divided into four categories according to the nature of the surface from which the impression is taken. Books dealing with impression from relief, plane, and intaglio surfaces are separately listed; while those dealing with more than one kind of surface have been grouped under 'General Works.' No attempt has been made to distinguish between books dealing with the autographic and photographic production of the same kinds of surface.]

The White Doe of Rylstone; or The Fate of the Nortons. A Poem. 1815; ed. M. T. Quinn, Madras, 1889; ed. W. Knight, Oxford, 1891. [The poem The Force of Prayer; or, The Founding of Bolton Priory. A Tradition, previously ptd, follows as an 'Appendage to the "White Doe."' Rptd separately 1859, 1867, 1889.]

Thanksgiving Ode, January 18, 1816. With Other Short Pieces, Chiefly referring to Recent Public Events. 1816. [Rebound to form part of vol. iii of Poems, Including Lyrical Ballads, 1815, in 1820.]

Peter Bell, A Tale in Verse. [With four sonnets.] 1819 (bis). [Rebound with A Thanksgiving Ode in 1820. The original version is rptd as an appendix to Hutchinson's edn of Lyrical Ballads.]

The Waggoner, A Poem. To which are added Sonnets. 1819. [Rebound with A Thanksgiving Ode in 1820.]

The Little Maid and the Gentleman; or, We are Seven. [1820?] [There are in existence at least three chapbook versions of We are Seven, one with the title as given above, pbd in York by J. Kendrew, n.d. The other two have the usual title: one was certainly, the other possibly, pbd by W. Davison, Alnwick. All three seem to have been ptd from a text earlier than the revision of 1815. See H. S. Hughes, Two Wordsworthian Chapbooks, MP. xxv, 1927.]

The River Duddon, A Series of Sonnets: Vaudracour and Julia; and other Poems. To which is annexed, A Topographical Description of the Country of the Lakes, in the North of England. 1820. [Rebound with A Thanksgiving Ode in 1820. For A Topographical Description see under Separate Prose Works.]

Memorials of a Tour on the Continent, 1820. 1822.

Ecclesiastical Sketches. 1822; ed. A. F. Potts, New Haven, 1922. [Only 102 sonnets of a final total of 132 were here ptd. The title was changed in 1837 to Ecclesiastical Sonnets.]

Ode to the Memory of Charles Lamb. 1835 (priv. ptd).

Yarrow Revisited, And Other Poems. 1835; 1836; 1839. [Possibly intended as a supplementary fifth vol. to the collected edn of 1832.]

The Sonnets of William Wordsworth. Collected in One Volume, with A Few Additional Ones, now First Published. 1838; rptd 1884 (with an Essay on The History of the English Sonnet by R. C. Trench).

Poems, Chiefly of Early and Late Years; Including The Borderers, A Tragedy. 1842. [Rptd in 1843 as vol. vii of the collected edn of 1836-7.]

Poems on the Loss and Re-Building of St Mary's Church, Cardiff. Cardiff, 1842. [Includes one sonnet by Wordsworth and poems by James Montgomery, Thomas William Booker, and John Dix. There was possibly a separate issue of Wordsworth's poem. See T. J. Wise's Bibliography, p. 156.]

Grace Darling. [1843] (priv. ptd).

Verses Composed at the Request of Jane Wallis Penfold. [1844] (priv. ptd).

To the Queen. Kendal, 1846 (priv. ptd).

Ode, Performed in the Senate-House, Cambridge, On the Sixth of July, M.DCCC.XLVII. At the First Commencement after The Installation of His Royal Highness the Prince Albert, Chancellor of the University. Cambridge, 1847. [Also: Ode On the Installation of His Royal Highness Prince Albert as Chancellor of the University of Cambridge, [1847]. The first was the 'official' pbn; the second a public edn.]

The Prelude, Or Growth of a Poet's Mind; An Autobiographical Poem. 1850; 1851 (vol. viii of Poetical Works, 1849-50); rptd 1896, 1904, 1915, 1923; ed. E. de Selincourt, Oxford, 1926, 1934 (without apparatus criticus); ed. E. E. Reynolds, 1932. [The de Selincourt edn prints on opposite pages the 1805-6 version—here pbd for the first time—and the version pbd in 1850, with notes showing all variations in the several MSS and fragments of MS recently discovered.]

The Recluse. 1888. [The law of copyright prevented the inclusion of this poem in many edns of Wordsworth's Collected Poems.]

[The Canadian Boat Song first appeared in Noctes Ambrosianae in Blackwood's Mag. Sept. 1829, without the author's name and was included in The Republic of Letters, VII, 1831, a compilation edited by A. White-law. Galt's authorship, although generally accepted, is open to some doubt. See E. Mac-Curdy, A Literary Enigma, Stirling, 1936, who attributes to Moir and Lockhart, Galt only providing the initial hint. Galt contributed a Life of John Wilson to Scottish Descriptive Poems, 1803, and a preface to A. Graydon's Memoirs, 1822. He was a frequent contributor to Fraser's and Blackwood's Mags. 1829-36.]

CHARLES DICKENS (1812-1870)

(1) BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND CATALOGUES

(a) Manuscripts and Relics

[Most of the MSS of Dickens's works are in the Forster Collection, at the Victoria and Albert Museum, London; a small quantity, including a few leaves of Pickwick, in the BM.; the MS of Great Expectations in the Wisbech Museum; and a few in private hands.

The Forster Collection includes corrected proof-sheets and similar matter. A considerable number of letters, many still unprinted, are in private collections. For a convenient summary of a few of the chief miscellaneous documents in private hands see B. Currie, Fishers of Books, Boston, 1931. Dickens's private life, which entered largely into his work, is illustrated in various museums connected with his name, and in exhibitions of books, relics, documents, etc., held from time to time. The sale catalogues of his effects have also been ptd and annotated.]

(2) COLLECTED WORKS

[During Dickens's lifetime and the duration of the chief copyrights, the only authorised collected edns issued in England were pbd by Chapman and Hall. These edns were expanded from time to time, and in due course furnished with introductory or critical matter. After Dickens's death similarly annotated edns were issued by other firms, and new artists were procured for the illustrations; only the more important of these edns are given here. The authorised edns themselves are not all included, because some varied merely in title, price, and other technical details. Rpts of any kind not containing new material are not included. For texts now available, see Reference Catalogue of Current Literature.]

(a) Editions published by Chapman and Hall

- The Works of Charles Dickens*. 17 vols. 1847-68. [The first systematic re-issue, known as the 'first cheap edition.' Frontispiece illustrations only. Contains some specially written prefaces and similar addresses to the reader (see, e.g., Pickwick Papers, below).]

(3) THE NOVELS

[Almost all the first edns of Dickens's works, major and minor, contain small textual discrepancies or technical variations in production which determine, whenever they can be established with final certainty, priority of publication as between one copy or set of copies and another. (For some causes, see under Pickwick Papers below.) These minutiae are of importance to book-collectors, but affect the material state of the various works rather than the contents, and there is still considerable disagreement between experts about points of detail. Such points cannot be enumerated here in full. They have been dealt with exhaustively in J. C. Eckel's The First Editions of Dickens, 1932, The Dickensian, etc. The following entries do not include either rpts of separate works pbd after Dickens's death (unless they contain critical or introductory matter, or illustrations, of recognised value), or selections, abridgments, and school edns. Sequels, imitations and dramatisations are included (up to 1900) only if they utilised Dickens's own scenes and characters or very close imitations of them, and were clearly meant to share the popularity of the original work, or to adapt it legitimately. Dickens's own 'reading versions' are given.]

Sketches by Boz

Sketches by 'Boz.' Illustrative of Every-Day Life, and Every-Day People. Illustrated by George Cruikshank. 2 vols. 1836. The Second Series. 1836. [The ptd title-page of ser. 2 is dated 1837, the engraved, 1836. It was actually pbd on 17 Dec. 1836. There are variants in both sers. The Sketches appeared originally at intervals in Monthly Mag., Evening Chronicle, Bell's Life in London, Morning Chronicle, Library of Fiction, Carlton Chronicle, and London Weekly Mag. (late The Thief). The earliest—Dickens's first appearance in print as an author—was A Dinner at Poplar Walk (called Mr Minns and his Cousin in ser. 2) in Monthly Mag. Dec. 1833. After the first edn Dickens transferred the work from John Macrone to Chapman and Hall.]

Sketches by 'Boz.' [Both sers.] 20 monthly pts, 1 Nov. 1837-1 June 1839 (variants); 1839 (the monthly pts in 1 vol.; known as the first 8vo edn; variants); 2 vols. Philadelphia, 1836 (ser. 1 only, as Watkins Tottle, and other Sketches, illustrative of Every-Day Life and Every-Day People; variants); Calcutta, 1837 (20 sketches from ser. 2, as The New Series of Sketches by Boz).

'Bos' [Thomas Peckett Prest or Edward Lloyd?]. The Sketch Book. Embellished with seventeen elegant engravings. [1837?] [Ostensibly, and partly in fact, a close imitation of Sketches by Boz, but from internal evidence written when Pickwick was advanced in monthly publication and Oliver Twist begun.]

A Dinner at Poplar Walk. Being [Dickens's] First Effusion 'in all the glory of print.' Reproduced in Facsimile from the Monthly Magazine, December, 1833. 1933 (priv. ptd). [With facs. of page of 1847 Pickwick preface corrected by Dickens.]

Darton, F. J. H. Dickens; Positively the First Appearance. A Centenary Review. With a Bibliography of Sketches by 'Boz' [by J. E. S. Sawyer and F. J. H. Darton]. 1933. [Includes original text of A Dinner at Poplar Walk.]

The Posthumous Papers of the Pickwick Club Containing a faithful Record of the Perambulations, Perils, Travels, Adventures and Sporting Transactions of the corresponding Members. Edited by 'Boz.' [20 (as 19) monthly pts from 31 March 1836 (illustrated successively by Robert Seymour, d. April 1836, Robert W. Buss, superseded after one no. and Hablot Knight Browne, 'Phiz'); 1 vol. 1837 (Buss's illustrations omitted).]

[These are the bare facts of first issue. There are innumerable variants in the earliest copies, and the exact bibliographical details are still undecided, owing to (i) inequality of demand for each part in the early stages, and consequent use of material in various states of production, (ii) textual and pictorial changes made in the course of serial issue, though the main body was unaltered, (iii) insertion in bound-up copies of discarded or extra plates (see below), (iv) the binding-up or improvisation of 'perfect' copies out of different-state but genuine monthly parts. The whole question is discussed elaborately in the bibliographies, etc.]

The Posthumous Papers of the Pickwick Club. With Illustrations, after Phiz. Launceston (Tasmania), 1838; Philadelphia, 1838 ('With illustrations by Sam Weller, Jr. [T. H. Onwhyn] and Alfred Crowquill' [Alfred Henry Forrester]); 1847 (frontispiece by C. R. Leslie and preface describing origin of the Pickwick Papers and Dickens's relations with Robert Seymour; first 'cheap' edn).

The Posthumous Papers of the Pickwick Club. Ed. C. Dickens, jun., 2 vols. 1886 (with valuable notes); 2 vols. 1887 (with facsimiles of original illustrations, including Buss's, and additional drawings by John Leech); ed. C. Van Noorden, B. W. Matz, and C. P. Johnson, 2 vols. 1909 (original illustrations and prefaces, 223 additional pictures, introduction, notes, etc.).

(6) PLAYS AND POEMS

(a) Plays

- The Strange Gentleman; A Comic Burletta, In Two Acts*. By 'Boz.' First performed at The St James's Theatre, on Thursday, September 29, 1836. 1837 (with frontispiece by 'Phiz'); 1871 (without frontispiece). [Variants; in some copies extra frontispiece by F. W. Pailthorpe. J. C. Eckel, The First Editions of Charles Dickens (1932), mentions another rpt, but gives no data.]
- The Strange Gentleman*. [1883] (in Dicks's Standard Plays); 2 pts, 1904; 1928 (priv.

ptd, 'illustrated with reproductions from original drawings by John Leech, John Orlando Parry, etc.').

[This is Dickens's first publicly produced play, written before Pickwick began to appear. A version of it as a short story, The Great Winglebury Duel, appeared in Sketches by 'Boz', First Series, 1836.]

The Village Coquettes: A Comic Opera. In Two Acts. The Music by John Hullah. 1836; 1837 (theatre edn); Leipzig, 1845 (in L. Hilsenberg's Modern English Comic Theatre); Amsterdam, [1868?] (in Modern English Comedies and Farces, No. 1); rptd facs. [1878]; 1883 (in Dicks's Standard Plays). [Written 1835. The following songs were pbd separately (Hullah's music, Dickens's words): 'The Child and the Old Man,' 1836; 'Some folks who have grown old,' 1836; 'How beautiful at eventide,' 1836; 'No light bound of stag,' 1836; 'My fair home,' 1851; 'In rich and lofty station shine,' 1858; 'The cares of the day,' 1858; 'Autumn Leaves,' 1871.]

Is She His Wife? Or Something Singular. A Comic Burletta In One Act. [1872?] [The only known 1st edn. A unique copy of the real 1st edn—date unknown; presumably about 1837—was destroyed by fire in 1879. A rpt of the text had been made from it and was issued at Boston, in 1877. Play produced at St James's Theatre, London, 6 March 1877. See R. H. Shepherd, A Lost Work of Charles Dickens, The Pen, Oct. 1880, and J. C. Eckel, The First Editions of Charles Dickens (1932).]

The Lamplighter A Farce by Charles Dickens (1838) now first printed from a Manuscript in the Forster Collection at the South Kensington Museum. 1879; ed. W. L. Phelps, New York, 1926 (with The Lamplighter's Story). [Discovered and ptd by R. H. Shepherd. Never produced or ptd in Dickens's lifetime. Written as a farce for Macready, but withdrawn. The substance was turned into a tale and included in The Pic Nic Papers (see below) as The Lamplighter's Story.]

The Patrician's Daughter, a tragedy in five Acts by J. Westland Marston. 1841. [Play produced Dec. 10, 1842. Prologue in rhymed couplets by Dickens.]

Mr Nightingale's Diary: A Farce. In One Act. By — [Dickens and Wilkie Collins]. 1851 (priv. ptd); Boston, 1877 (some copies with frontispiece by F. W. Pailthorpe). [Produced at Devonshire House, 16 May 1851, both authors in the cast.]

Collins, W. Wilkie. The Lighthouse. [Not pbd? Acted at Dickens's Tavistock House

Theatre in 1856. Prologue and The Song of the Wreck by Dickens; text of play revised by him during rehearsal.]

The Frozen Deep. A Drama. In Three Acts. By Wilkie Collins. [Not published.] 1866.

['Not published' is part of the title-page. The play was produced at Dickens's house in 1857. His MS copy proves that in supervising rehearsals he rewrote much of the play himself. See Introduction to Collins's version of it as a story-reading, Readings and Writings in America, 2 vols. 1874.]

No Thoroughfare. A Drama. In Five Acts. (Altered from the Christmas Story, for Performance on the Stage.) By Charles Dickens and Wilkie Collins. 1867. [Produced Dec. 26, 1867. Possibly variants. See above, Christmas Numbers, 1867.]

(b) Poems

[Dickens's poems are collected from his works and from periodicals in the vol. edited by R. H. Shepherd and F. G. Kitton mentioned below. The following appeared independently in periodicals.]
